About the Scholarship

The Behrend Memorial Travel Scholarships support MSc students in the School of Mathematics and Statistics by providing funds for travel associated with research and study, including, but not limited to, participation in conferences or workshops.

The funds are provided by the Behrend Memorial Trust, established by the family of the late Felix Behrend, formerly an Associate Professor in Mathematics at the University of Melbourne.

Eligibility

To be eligible for this scholarship, you need to:

- Be enrolled in the Master of Science (Mathematics and Statistics).

Selection Criteria

Eligible candidates will be ranked based on:

- Proposed impact of travel on research and study in the Master of Science (Mathematics & Statistics); and,
- Academic merit based on Master of Science (Mathematics & Statistics) coursework results.

Application Requirements

You must submit an application and include details of the proposed travel, including purpose of travel, itinerary, and cost estimates.

Outcome

All scholarship outcomes will be communicated via SmartyGrants.

Please regularly check your email inbox, including your Junk/Spam folder, as scholarship notifications may occasionally be filtered there.

For indicative outcome release timeframes, please refer to the Faculty of Science Scholarship Application Resources page.
